

arcola
theatre

BLACK & ETHNIC MINORITY ARTS

ARTS FUNDRAISER

Sun 11th Dec 2011

3pm-7pm £3 entry

DJs

Bogossy Freshfrenchy, Oya Bun

Dance

Emashi (African dance, drumming & more)

Spoken word

Cezanne (Painter & poet)

Hyacinth Myers (Poet)

Ngoma Bishop (Poet, novelist & edutainer)

Stephanie (Poet & artist)

Live Music

Farafina Crew, Black Slate,

Casey, Naldo

John Blood & The Highlys

Comedy

Gantan (Stand up comic)

Theatre

Judith Jacob (Casualty, EastEnders, No Problem)

Arcola Theatre

24 Aswhin Street, London, E8 3DL, Dalston

www.focusorganization.com

www.arcolatheatre.com

www.bemanetwork.org.uk

flyer design: Zofia Walczak

arcola
theatre

The Black & Ethnic Minority Arts Network (BEMA)
in conjunction with Focus Organization and Arcola Theatre present:

ARTS FUNDRAISER

You are invited to join us Sunday 11 December to celebrate an afternoon of experienced and emerging artists from all walks of the creative industry – music, dance, spoken word, theatre and comedy.

Hosted at the Arcola Theatre - now one of the most respected arts venues in the UK, blazing a trail in artistic excellence and innovative management since day-one – this not-to-miss event promises to be jam-packed full of artistic delights.

The Black & Ethnic Minority Arts (BEMA) Network is an organisation that believes artists working in partnership can change the world for the better. It is an informal alliance of arts organisations, individual artists, promoters & producers who have an interest in developing cultural activity as a means of promoting tolerance, equality and education.

Focus Organization are a group of dynamic London-based music promoters who aim to bring together international musicians for cultural enrichment and edutainment.

@Arcola Theatre, 24 Aswhin Street, London, E8 3DL, Dalston
www.focusorganization.com www.arcolatheatre.com www.bemanetwork.org.uk

